

My ad is still running after XX weeks. How come?

Contributed by Alan Richardson

We've had a few people complain that their ads are still running after a few weeks. Because it's FREE to advertise, we run your ads until you tell us to take them out. It's a service to the community, so please think twice before yelling at our staff! If you'd like to remove your ad please let us know.